

How CCOMTL Employees can Access DynaMed

From any CCOMTL computer or the remote desktop (Citrix, Imprivata), the two main ways to access the software are:

1. Search for dynamed.com. The software reads the IP address of your computer so it knows you are from the CCOMTL and grants you access.
2. Click on the DynaMed link from the CCOMTL Library Services pages at <https://www.ciusswestcentral.ca/about-us/learning-partnerships-and-knowledge-activation/library-services>

Once you have access to DynaMed, you can create your own personal account WITHIN the CCOMTL-McGill account to be able to access extra services (Dyna AI and CME credits) and to be able to access the database from other computers:

PLEASE NOTE:

1. You CANNOT access it directly from the McGill links because it will look for the McGill IP addresses and refuse you access because you are at CCOMTL not McGill.
2. If you graduated McGill last year or earlier, you do not have access to the McGill subscription because alumni lose their access to most of McGill's databases upon graduation.

For more help, please contact a librarian through the 06 CCOMTL Lib Biblio Teams Account or call the Systems Librarian at 514-340-8222 ext. 23277 for help over the phone or Teams.