

LIBRARY HOW TO:

Access full-text
of an article...

JGH USERS

JGH Health Sciences Library
A-200
jgh.ca/hsl

Francesca Frati x2438
ffrati@jgh.mcgill.ca

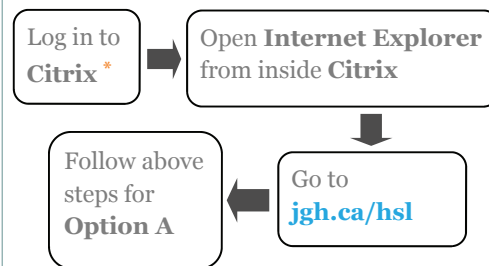

Jacynthe Touchette x2453
jtouchette@jgh.mcgill.ca

... after searching a database

OPTION A

OPTION B- REMOTE ACCESS

* go to CSIT B-118.10 to set up remote access.

FYI: PubMed, Google Scholar and TRIP Database are free to search without logging in if you access them directly (not via our website). Many articles are free.

... by article title or
via JGH TOCs

OPTION C- ARTICLE TITLE

OPTION D- TOC

FYI: TOCs always feature the most recent volume/issue so there may be an embargo on access for the first months.

OPTION E- REMOTE ACCESS

... by journal title

OPTION F

OPTION G- REMOTE ACCESS

FYI: Open access journals are free to access and do not require log in to Citrix.

More detailed information on how to access full text is available on the HSL website.

Contact one of our librarians anytime for help accessing full-text.

Articles not available through HSL can be ordered using our Inter-Library Loan service (ILL) by filling out the form on the library home page. Prices vary, but the charge for articles coming from McGill is $3.