A MESSAGE TO THE PARENT

This "Get Well Coloring Book" was produced with the advice of physicians as a happy reminder to a child of his hospital experience. It also helps the child of appropriate age to understand more about this big, mysterious place.

Much of the success of this hospital experience depends on you. "Rules" have been cut to the barest minimum for efficient care. It would help a great deal if you, in simple terms, explain to your child why "things are different" in hospitals. If you wish to bring in food, please check with the nurse before you do so.

Be honest with your child. Do not tell him he is going home tomorrow when it is not so. When visiting hours are over, tell him honestly you are going home, and when you will return.

Please don't use the doctor, "the needle", or the hospital as a disciplinary threat at any time.

We hope this hospital experience will be, within reasonable limits, a pleasurable experience both for your child and for you.
